

Biographical short for Commissioner Jeffrey W. Korn

Graduated Rutgers University, New Jersey, in 1987 and University of California, San Francisco Law School in 1990.

Worked as a trial attorney including over fifty jury trials and many arbitrations and court trials in state and federal courts including personal injury, Constitutional and employment cases. 70% work defending and 30% prosecuting.

Also worked in entertainment drafting and reviewing contracts for star in commercials and television shows.

Elected by the judges of the Los Angeles Superior Court to become a commissioner in April 2019. Presided over criminal misdemeanor trial courtroom for 2.5 years and then moved to family law and currently preside over an AB1058 child support courtroom.